Standing by Our Commitment to Assist Those in Need

As millions of Americans struggled to access medical care, HealthWell continued to stand by its commitment to ensure that no one goes without life-changing, sometimes life-saving, medical treatments because they cannot afford them. Staggering statistics highlight the importance of our work and the critical need for our services, especially for patients living with chronic illnesses and patients on Medicare.

Out-of-pocket (OOP) health care costs continued to chip away at Americans’ health and financial security in 2019. Plans with annual deductibles of $3,000, $5,000 or even $10,000 are now common. For many, these costs are simply unbearable. A quarter of adults in the U.S. report difficulty affording their insurance premiums and deductibles, and a similar percentage report difficulty paying for doctor copays and prescription drugs. In fact, health care costs top the list of household expenses the public worries about affording, with 12 percent admitting that medical bills have a major impact on their family.

When Treatment Costs are Out of Reach
• 3 in 10 adults report not taking medicines as prescribed because of cost.
• 1 in 8 adults say their medical condition got worse because they delayed care or relied on alternative treatments due to cost.
• Cancer patients in Medicare Part D are five times more likely to abandon their treatment when they face high cost-sharing.
• 41% of breast cancer patients skipped medication or treatment to save money.
• Cancer patients who go bankrupt are 80% more likely to die from the disease than other cancer patients.

Chronic Conditions Compound the Problem
• 35% of those taking 4 or more prescription drugs report difficulty in affording them.
• 13.2% of people with diabetes do not take medications as prescribed to reduce costs.
• Cancer patients are 2.5 times more likely than healthy people to declare bankruptcy.

Out-of-Pocket Costs for Cancer Care Average Thousands a Year
• Acute leukemia patients average $5,147 in OOP costs in the first year following diagnosis.
• Multiple myeloma patients incur $9,127 in OOP costs over 3 years.
• Stage I breast cancer patients face average OOP costs of $5,819-$10,114 a year.
• Stage II colorectal cancer patients face average OOP costs of $5,748-$10,114 a year.
• Stage IV lung cancer patients face average OOP costs of $5,654-$10,114 per year.

Older Americans Vulnerable in Retirement
• 23% of those 65 and older with Medicare report difficulty affording their prescriptions.
• 62% of cancer-related costs are not covered by Medicare.
• Medicare beneficiaries spend an average of $3,896 a year on drugs.
• Medicare beneficiaries spend 12% of their income on OOP health costs.
From our Board Chair

2019 represented a year of remarkable growth for the HealthWell Foundation. Donations in excess of $480 million allowed us to provide a financial lifeline to more than 150,000 underinsured Americans, making 2019 another record year for the Foundation and our most impactful year to date. As the demand for our services continues to grow dramatically year over year, we are honored that our dedicated corporate and individual donors recognize the critical need that we are filling and continue to place their trust in HealthWell. Their generosity and continued support allow us to serve thousands of underinsured Americans who otherwise would forgo critical medical treatments due to cost. Their generous contributions enable us to execute our mission to reduce financial barriers to care for underinsured Americans living with chronic or life-altering diseases. As long as there is a need for our services, maintaining that trust will remain our number one priority.

While this trust is humbling, we believe, without being immodest, that it is also well earned. Since its inception, HealthWell has prioritized the importance of operating in compliance with all guidance and requirements of federal regulations that govern charitable patient assistance programs (CPAPs). Indeed, HealthWell does its best to exceed these requirements in terms of ethics, compliance, and financial transparency in everything we do. It is the guiding principle under which we operate as an organization and under which our Board and staff operate as individuals.

The way we define and manage our funds, develop and apply patient eligibility guidelines, maintain the anonymity of our donors and patients, and provide grant assistance continues to be a model for other CPAPs and allows us to focus on what is most important: helping patients access life-saving medical treatments.

Our ability to focus on the needs of patient communities is more important than ever because health care costs continue to be financially toxic for millions of Americans. We expect the need for our services to grow even more urgent in the near future. It is our promise and our commitment to address that hardship for as long as there are underinsured Americans who struggle to access critical medical care.

Without the support of the HealthWell Foundation, thousands of people would be burdened by everyday decisions, such as choosing between paying for their health care copayments or premiums or paying for food, housing, utilities, and other life-sustaining needs for their families. We firmly believe that nobody should be faced with such choices, and that nobody should be driven into poverty just because they need medical care. We eagerly await the time when there is no longer a need for our services because all Americans have access to affordable health care. Until then, HealthWell will continue to provide a financial lifeline for the underinsured that enables them to access critical, possibly life-saving, medical treatments they otherwise would not be able to afford.

We are honored to be able to assist those who have nowhere else to turn. On behalf of our Board, thank you for your ongoing support of HealthWell and for allowing us to continue to focus on our mission, to ensure that no one has to forgo critical medical treatments due to cost.

Warm wishes,

Stephen M. Weiner
Board Chair

Letter from the President

2019 was an extraordinary year for the HealthWell Foundation. We continued to experience phenomenal growth through the addition of new team members, the launch of new funds, and the implementation of new tools to better serve those in need. While we are humbled by our accomplishments, many areas of our operations remained constant. First and foremost, our unwavering commitment to uphold the highest ethical standards for how we run our programs has been, and will always be, our number one priority. Secondly, and of equal importance, we continued to demonstrate our commitment to honor patient communities to ensure that no one goes without health care because they cannot afford it. Our work is only made possible by the continued trust and support of our donors and of those we serve. Any deviation from that trust would compromise the integrity of our programs, and that is something we would never allow to happen.

As our industry continued to face increased scrutiny from national media and federal agencies, we remained steadfast in our commitment to compliance and transparency. In fact, that commitment has been recognized by leading charity watchdog groups and publications year over year. That recognition serves as a testimony to our continued commitment to ensure the financial efficiency and transparency of our programs, but we do not do this for the praise. Strict compliance with regulatory requirements that govern charitable patient assistance programs is, and will always be, the cornerstone of our operations.

In 2019, we continued to broaden our impact by expanding our team, our programs, and the number of patients we were able to serve. As a result of the selfless generosity of our corporate and individual donors, HealthWell assisted more than 150,000 patients in 2019 – that’s 32,000 more than in 2018! Since awarding our first grant in 2004, we have helped over 500,000 underinsured patients by providing more than $1.67 billion in financial assistance. We continue to set new records year over year and look forward to serving even more patients in 2020.

Early in 2019, our dedicated contact center, HWF Direct, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of the HealthWell Foundation, became fully operational, housing a team of more than 70 highly trained representatives who serve as the first line of communication for patients, providers, and family members seeking financial assistance for out-of-pocket costs for medical treatments. I am proud to say that our contact center team handled more than 424,000 calls in 2019, an average of over 35,000 calls each month.

We were honored to launch or re-open 27 disease funds and continue to operate over 60 funds in a variety of disease areas, including multiple funds in oncology and funds to assist Medicare patients.

Our continued outreach to patient, provider and pharmacy communities strengthened our presence across multiple disease areas to ensure that patients who need us the most have access to our programs and services. We continued to stand by our commitment to each grantee to be able to access their grant up to the maximum grant amount or for the duration of their 12-month enrollment period, whichever comes first. Once a grant is awarded, grant dollars are set aside for that grantee with no exceptions.

While we are proud to reach these milestones, we would never have been able to achieve them without the dedication and commitment of our individual and corporate donors. Their support of our mission and their trust in us to carry out that mission is something we do not take lightly. Through their generous acts of kindness, we are able to change, oftentimes save, the lives of those we serve.

On behalf of our Board of Directors and my dedicated corporate and contact center teams, thank you for trusting the HealthWell Foundation to provide a financial lifeline to those who have nowhere else to turn.

Warmest regards,

Krista Zodet
President
2019 was a prodigious year for the HealthWell Foundation, one that allowed us to continue our unwavering commitment to the thousands of underinsured Americans who reach out to us each year for assistance. In fact, 2019 represented the most impactful and productive year since HealthWell’s inception in 2003.

Our extraordinary impact would not have been possible without the continued trust and support of the Foundation’s dedicated corporate and individual donors who help us carry out our mission to reduce financial barriers to care for patients with chronic or life-altering diseases. On behalf of our Board of Directors, our staff, and those we serve, thank you for trusting the HealthWell Foundation to carry out our mission to fulfill a critical, unmet need.

In 2019, HealthWell received record contributions of more than $480 million, thanks to the generosity of our donors, which allowed us to broaden our funds across a variety of disease areas and increase the number of patients we assist through our programs. This total exceeded our 2018 record of $427 million, which allowed HealthWell to be ranked #33 on the Forbes List of the 100 Largest U.S. Charities, where we were also recognized for our efficiency and transparency.

We are humbled that, since awarding our first grant in 2004 through the end of 2019, we have provided over $1.67 billion in financial assistance to over 500,000 patients who otherwise would have nowhere else to turn. During 2019, we were proud to:

- Award more than $610 million in medication copay and premium grants to over 150,000 underinsured Americans — a growth of more than 32,000 patients over 2018.
- Launch or re-open 27 different disease area funds.
- Continue to operate over 60 funds in a variety of disease areas.
- Increase our presence at more than 25 industry and disease-specific conferences, where we shared information about our programs and services and contributed to timely discussions on industry-related issues.
- Establish and maintain scores of partnerships with other patient-focused non-profits, physicians, pharmacies and other patient advocates who were vital partners in communicating our mission and resources.
- Continue to maintain operational efficiency by programming our grants with an average corporate overhead rate of less than 2.4%, while never having utilized any donor dollars to pay any administrative fees.

Compliance and Transparency
Charitable patient assistance programs (CPAPs), like the HealthWell Foundation, are structured, governed and operated in compliance with federal legal and regulatory requirements and are subject to oversight by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Inspector General (OIG) whose mission is to protect the integrity of federal health care programs. We continue to run our programs in full compliance with federal guidance that governs the copayment assistance industry and continue to follow the highest ethical standards. Our standard puts the patient first over all else.

The HealthWell Foundation is, like other CPAPs, funded in majority by donations from the pharmaceutical industry, and we are required to operate independently from our donors. The OIG has provided strict guidance for how CPAPs should be structured to avoid potential fraud and abuse. As the government has announced a number of recent enforcement actions, we continue to follow that guidance to the letter and have focused on maintaining compliance, independence, and transparency since our inception.

As CPAPs continued to endure scrutiny from the national media and federal agencies, we remained steadfast to our commitment to lead by example. We operate within the parameters of our favorable OIG opinion and subsequent modifications to help ensure that patients follow their prescribing physician’s orders and access the best medical treatments for their conditions, regardless of manufacturer or cost. Full and strict regulatory compliance are, and will continue to be, the cornerstone of our operations.

We are proud to serve as an invaluable safety net for the estimated 44 million underinsured Americans, helping to give patients the financial wherewithal to start or continue critical medical treatments. We will continue to hold true to our mission to provide medication financial relief to underinsured Americans as long as there is a need for our services.
My wife, Jeanne, and I are very grateful to the HealthWell Foundation for giving me my life back.

In 2003, I was prescribed medications to deal with some mental health issues I was struggling with at the time. The doctors warned me some of them were very powerful and it was like “playing with fire” because there could be serious side effects. I heard what they said, but I guess like a lot of people, I didn’t think it would happen to me.

For a few years, everything seemed just fine. Then my tongue started to stick out all on its own. It was like I was licking my lips, even when I wasn’t. It got a lot worse. I started chewing the inside of my cheek and my tongue uncontrollably until it was impossible to eat and, sometimes, even speak. I was in unbearable pain.

My doctor said I had Tardive Dyskinesia (TD), which causes uncontrolled facial and muscular movements. I’d never heard of it, but it was one of the possible side effects of the medications I had been taking.

For years my mouth wouldn’t close all the way. It was so bad I could hardly eat. It’s a big deal when you can’t chew. Every three months, we traveled to Wake Forest to get injections to deal with the pain. It cost about $450 every time we went, plus the gas, but it was the only option I had.

Then about three years ago, my doctor in Charleston found a drug that he thought might help my TD symptoms a lot. It was a great relief for me and for my family when it worked. Then we got the very bad news when my insurance company said this medication was too expensive and that they would only cover a different one. I gave it a try, but it didn’t work at all. This was a very dark time for me. I just couldn’t imagine having to live again with the nightmare of TD. But being a working man, I could not have paid for the medication on my own.

Fortunately, when I went on Medicare, I was able to get a prescription for the medication that I had needed to treat my TD. But, even then, the copay was more than we could afford. That’s when HealthWell was able to help. My doctor told me about the HealthWell Foundation and gave me the 800 number. It’s been over a year now since you started helping. I am functioning normally again and, after what my wife and I have been through, that’s a big deal.

As I said before, thank you for giving me my life back.
Our Commitment to Total Patient Care
– Strengthening Relationships with Supporters and Alliance Partners

We continued to partner with national patient support and advocacy organizations to cross refer patients, spread the word about our robust portfolio of disease funds, and share resources to targeted patient communities in an effort to reach the patients who need us the most. In 2019, we proudly strengthened existing relationships and expanded our outreach to dozens of leading organizations to reach disease-specific communities and stakeholders. Many patients often need support that goes beyond financial assistance. Working with national health care organizations and patient advocacy groups who support our mission and the disease funds we cover allows us to focus on total patient care, not just a condition.

In 2019, we were excited to expand our growing list of alliance partners and resources across a broad range of disease communities and advocacy organizations. Thank you to our valued alliance partners for their assistance and generous support of our mission. Organizations that worked with us in 2019 include:

As part of the series, we explored the special needs of friend-and-family caregivers, particularly those caring for patients with heart failure, cancer, secondary progressive multiple sclerosis, and migraine. We were also excited to feature articles for Non-Alcoholic Steatohepatitis (NASH), highlighting the need for this underserved patient group. Our blog following grew to more than 13,900 visitors in 2019.

We continued to grow and assist patients through our special initiative funds, Pediatric Assistance and Cancer-Related Behavioral Health. I wanted to let you know that HealthWell was there for me when I had nowhere else to turn.

In May 2015, I underwent a double mastectomy after precancerous cells were found in my breast tissue. The decision to have this surgery was not difficult for me – I had helped my sister-in-law through breast cancer, and I was willing to do whatever was needed to protect my health. What happened afterward, however, is something I would not wish on anyone.

Sadly, studies show that the majority of women diagnosed with breast cancer are not informed of their options for reconstruction at the time of a mastectomy. I was ushered right into breast implants. After four additional failed surgeries, I was left disfigured and in pain.

When I looked in the mirror, I did not see myself. I began to second guess all my decisions. My self-esteem went down. My productivity at work went down. My long-term relationship ended.

I had to get the implants out of my body and try another restorative option! Working in a public library system, I do not make much money and the cost of my insurance is high. I found a well-regarded breast restoration center in New Orleans, but it was out of network and cost prohibitive for me. I began doing research to see if I could find any organization that provided financial help to breast cancer patients in my predicament.

Understandably, the assistance that is out there is for people much more ill than I was. My various applications were all turned down, and I found myself in a very hopeless, precarious place. I felt like I was walking a tightrope without a net. After all the surgeries and almost claiming bankruptcy, I knew I needed talk therapy to deal with the trauma and the stress. I was able to go to a few therapy sessions but had to stop because I could no longer afford to pay my copayments. My pain was no longer just physical. I was at the end of my rope.

That is when I took one more chance and searched the internet for resources for financial assistance for cancer-related mental health issues and found Healthwell. I immediately called and a wonderfully positive and upbeat woman walked me through the easy application process, and I was approved. Finally, I felt like someone understood what I was going through – things really turned around for me that day.

To some people, a $2,000 grant may not seem like much, but it sure does to me. It has covered my out-of-pocket treatment-related costs for my new prescription drug, psychotherapy sessions, and even transportation. That little bit has made such a difference in my life! With renewed confidence and compassionate support, I was finally able to get the necessary microsurgery in New Orleans.

My friends and family now say to me “You’re back!” and they’re right! I am so grateful to all the generous people who support Healthwell and for all you’ve done for me.

Thank you!

Addressing a critical need, the HealthWell Foundation is an independent 501(c)(3) charitable organization dedicated to reducing financial barriers to care for underinsured Americans with chronic and life-altering medical conditions. HealthWell is a financial lifeline for adults and children who desperately need critical medical treatments but can’t afford them. We help patients pay their share of prescription copayments, deductibles, health insurance premiums, and other ancillary costs. By reducing their financial stress, the people we serve can focus on what’s most important: their health.
